

Running Your Race

New Faculty Orientation Closing Reflection

Chinasa Elue, Ph.D

Associate Professor of Educational Leadership & Higher Education

Career Sprints vs. The Marathon

- Reinventing
- Re-strategizing
- Realigning
- Reimagining

Reinventing Research

- Impact of Research
- Opportunities for Grant Funding
- New opportunities for collaboration
 - With Faculty
 - With Students
 - Across Discipline

Re-strategizing Teaching

- New course preparations
- Leveraging new technologies (Salman, 2023)
- Incorporating new epistemologies
 - (i.e. Social, cultural, aspirational, familial capital into classroom (Yosso, 2005))

Realigning Service

Opportunities to connect your interest within KSU & Beyond

- Departmental Service
- College Service
- University Service
- Community Based

Reimagining New Ways of Being

How might you center your wellbeing in the work that you do everyday?

An aerial photograph of a large university stadium. The stadium features a green football field in the center, surrounded by a grey running track with orange-colored lanes. The seating bowl is visible, and the stadium is situated in an urban area with parking lots, roads, and buildings in the background. The text "Faculty Success is Student Success" is overlaid in white, with a white horizontal line below it.

Faculty Success is Student Success

One Wish

If you could make one wish as you begin the semester, what would it be and why?